About Super Lawyers

Each year, Northern California Super Lawyers, a Thomson Reuters lawyer rating service, select attorneys who have earned a high degree of peer recognition and professional achievements in their practice areas. Attorneys are selected through a patented multi-phase selection process involving peer nomination, independent research and peer evaluation. The Super Lawyers list includes no more than 5 percent of the lawyers in the region. The Northern California lawyers who receive the highest point totals during this selection process are further recognized in Northern California Super Lawyers Top Lists.

Congratulations to Trainor Fairbrook's Super Lawyers!
